

Welcome Back

Hey everybody, it's Brenda and I wanna welcome you back.

Why I Recommend Branded

This is the only survey company that I'm going to recommend in the companies that you get started with immediately.

If You're Creating a New Email

If you have chosen to create a new email and you have not signed up for Branded, please do so after this video ends.

If You Already Have an Account

If you already have a Branded account that you have used to take surveys, please log into that account and continue using it.

Because if you've already created an account and used it, I don't want to interrupt your progress.

I hope that makes sense.

My Experience With Branded

I want to recommend Branded Surveys highly because I personally have made pretty decent money with them.

As with all survey companies, this is not the kind of money that you're going to make to pay your mortgage.

I have made decent gas money, however, and I'm in a tougher demographic.

So that gives me hope for people who are in a more mainstream demographic.

That could be you, of course.

Why the Platform Is Easy to Use

Branded hits home because their interface is so easy to use and it makes sense.

With some survey companies, you have to look around to try to find what you're looking for.

But with Branded, everything is laid out clearly so it's easy for you to decide whether or not you want to click.

When Surveys Usually Appear

My experience has told me that survey requests usually come in during the middle of the morning.

If you are a morning person, this is probably going to work out very well for you.

I'll admit something — I am not a morning person.

So sometimes I have a tough time catching the surveys and when I click, I get the message that the survey is full.

Even If You're Not a Morning Person

If you're not a morning person, I still highly recommend that you sign up and use Branded because, like me, there's still opportunity to make decent survey money.

Payment Experience

I've been paid out by Branded multiple times and I'm very happy with what they offer.

Setting Realistic Expectations

You do need to set your expectations properly when taking surveys.

As I said, you're not going to make enough money to pay your mortgage.

But you might make enough money to put gas in your tank, and at this point that's huge.

Getting Started

So if you're ready to get started with Branded, please click the link below this video and do so.

More Lessons Are Coming

As I said earlier in this module, I will be adding to the lessons going forward.

Although this course is concluding, I will continue upgrading it and adding more and more value for you.

And I will email you and let you know.

Thank You

I really appreciate you being here and I look forward to hearing your success stories.

Please send them my way so that I can celebrate with you.
